

CONGRATULATIONS, you are almost there! Prepare a short presentation centred around your reading journey. Present it to the school during Collective Worship to reach the summit of MOUNT EVEREST (8,848m)! You are now a Reading Ambassador for our school. Help others to engage with their reading ☐

You've made it to the Hillary Step. Make sure your reading diary is up-to-date and signed by a member of your family before taking your final challenge ☐

Read 'River Boy' by the author Tim Bowler and you will progress into the 'Death Zone' ☐

Produce a list of your favourite 5 books and write a short review on each of them for our school website ☐

Write a diary entry based on the experience of the two main characters of 'Fireweed' by Jill Paton Walsh. How do they differ? Once you've done this – get some rest in Camp 3

Read Fireweed by the author Jill Paton Walsh

Well done, once you use 5 words (that you have recently learnt from your reading book) in your independent writing, you will have made it to Camp 2 (6,400m)! ☐

You're almost at Camp 2. Produce a PowerPoint presentation based around one of your favourite books and present it to your class ☐

Read a book by the author David Almond ☐

Research an author and write to him/her to reach Camp 1 ☐

Write a book review of 'The Hobbit' for our school website to continue your ascent ☐

Read 'The Hobbit' by the author TRR Tolkein and begin the steep climb towards Camp 1 ☐

Congratulations, by completing all of the reading challenges you have made it to the Everest Base Camp (5,334m)! To embark on the final expedition up the World's highest mountain, read a short story to the infants ☐
